Conditions for trials varied by years and locations. During dry years, such as 2007 TN Data, little if any injury was observed. Sencor was applied at a minimum of 8 oz per acre in each trial; in some cases higher rates were used up to 16 oz/A. Where multiple evaluations were taken and multiple rates, an overall average rating was taken. Ratings with more observations imply a higher level of confidence.

*T=tolerant, MT=moderately tolerant, MS=moderately susceptible, S=susceptible
